Dear Conference Delegate

Wow, what a day that was today! Another deeply moving keynote presentation, this time as Nancy Adler challenged us to ask the big questions and avoid inconvenient truths. I hope you agree that the wonderful paper sessions that followed were a great opportunity for us to practice unlearning our assumptions and gathering new knowledge together!

And what highlights of the day we had when we gathered together for the reception! First, we had the opportunity to celebrate the IBR-sponsored best paper award that was presented to Jana Bucher, Mila Lazarova, & Jürgen Deller for their paper 'Digital Technologies and Their Role for the New Normal of Global Mobility' – Congratulations!

And then we were able to celebrate the contributions of Chris Brewster to the international HRM field, and the personal contributions that he has made to many of our careers. The Leading Beautifully award designed and delivered by Nancy Adler was a delight beyond belief. Thank you to Chris for leading beautifully and to Nancy for making the award such an unforgettable experience.

And still, there is one more day to go...

We will see you for a quick breakfast in the morning, starting at 8:30. The parallel paper sessions then run from 8:45 to 10:00 am. This will be followed by the Publishing Workshop (Saturday, May 21, 10:15-12:15, room 105/6): The panel (Elaine Farndale, Emma Parry, Mila Lazarova, and Miguel Olivas-Lujan) will lead a conversation on the challenges and opportunities for publishing IHRM research. There will also be a special focus on the special issue of International Business Review that is linked with this conference.

We will wrap up with a few closing remarks and lunch before you head out to explore what New York has to offer!

Looking forward to seeing you all again!
Best wishes,

Elaine Farndale, Sven Horak,
Rakoon Piyanontalee, Maja Vidovic
