Urban Music Studies Scholars Network

Volker Kirchberg, Alenka Barber-Kersovan, Tobias Lutze Leuphana University Lüneburg

to establish Urban Music Studies as a new, vibrant field of research with a high discursive and trans-disciplinary potential to bring together scholars from a broad range of disciplines to build a shared body of knowledge to consolidate and expand the research on the music and the city from different perspectives and points of departure to promote collaborative research at the local, national and international levels

Music City Hamburg

Musical theatres, Reeperbahn and Elbe Philharmonic Hall

Music City – Musikalische Annäherungen an die kreative Stadt

- Editors: Alenka Barber-Kersovan, Volker Kirchberg and Robin Kuchar
- Transcript Verlag, Bielefeld, 2014
- https://www.transcript-verlag.de/978-3-8376-1965-2/musiccity/

Workshop Lüneburg 2017

What is Urban Music Studies and what could it be?

Basic aims of the Urban Music Studies Scolars Network

Urban Music Studies Scholars Network is supposed to provide a forum where those involved in Urban Music Studies can meet and share their work in workshops and conferences to collect and disseminate information about Urban Music Studies to document the work in this field

and

to establish Urban Music Studies as a new inter- and transdisciplinary field of research.

UMS Blog https://urbanmusicstudies.org/

UMS Facebook https://www.facebook.com/urbanmusicstudies/

Currently some 900 subscribers

No participation fees

Main objectives

Urban music studies

- provide fresh perspectives on the role of music in the accelerated urbanisation processes
- cover a broad range of topics and musical practices, current as well as historical
- promote inter- respectivly transdisciplinary
- focus on countries and geographical regions which are normally excluded from the scientific discourse

Groove the City 2018

Urban Music Policies Between Informal Networks and Institutional Governance

THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN MUSIC AND THE CITY IS DYNAMIC AND RECIPROCAL MUSIC IS A CENTRAL PART OF URBAN CULTURE; IT FORMS COMMUNITIES AND ACTS AS A SYMBOLIC RESOURCE, CONTRIBUTING TO THE SELF-AWARENESS OF ITS INHABITANTS AS BEING "URBAN" AND IN SOME CASES EVEN TO THE CULTURAL IDENTITY OF THE CITY ITSELF. THE "URBAN" IS A CENTRAL PART OF MUSIC; MUSIC MINES AND SCOOPS URBAN PARTICULARITIES, AND MUSICAL COMPOSITIONS ARE SHAPED BY THE URBAN SETTINGS THEY HAVE BEEN CREATED IN.

URBAN MUSIC POLICIES BETWEEN INFORMAL NETWORKS AND INSTITUTIONAL GOVERNANCE

Musikland Niedersachsen

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE NOVEMBER 23rd - 25th 2018 Leuphana University of Lüneburg, Germany

More information: www.urbanmusicstudies.org urbanmusicstudies@leuphana.de

LEUPHANA

Center far World Haris

U. PORTO

KEYNOTES

🐯 McGill

Music in the Creative City The main issues of discussion are

- the growing significance of musical organization for the creative economy
- the post-industrial regeneration of de-industrialized parts of towns
- city branding and marketing
- city planning
- interurban competition
- Tourism

Top-down vs. bottom-up planning principles

Groove the City 2020

- Keynotes:
- Sara Adhitya (University College London)
- Alejandro Mercado (Universidad Autónoma Metropolitana, Mexico City)
- Jennifer Lena (Columbia University New York)

Vienna Perspectives 2022

https://muk.ac.at/zwf/forschu ngsprojekte/wissenschaftlicheforschungsprojekte/urbanmusical-studies.html

Urban Music Studies book series

Urban Music Studies

Series editors: Alenka Barber-Kersovan, Lisa Gaupp, Volker Kirchberg and Robin Kuchar

Intellect and the Urban Music Studies Scholars Network are delighted to announce the launch of a new book series Urban Music Studies. We are seeking innovative book-length contributions that explore the issues of music and the city in line with the series' objectives.

Urban Music Studies aims at an inter- and trans-disciplinary exchange between researchers working on the relationship between the music and the city. The series covers a broad range of topics and musical practices, current as well as historical. With its cross cultural point of departure and the focus on countries and geographical regions which are normally excluded from the scientific discourse (such as Global South), this series will bring fresh perspectives on the role of music in the accelerated urbanisation processes.

We welcome proposals for monographs, readers and edited collections.

The theoretical model of Urban Music Studies is based on the assumptions that:

- · there is a vital exchange between the music and the city
- music is a part of the intrinsic logic of cities
- music contributes to the image design of a city
- music is an important part of the economy of cities and urban regeneration
- music can become an issue of urban politics and policies
- music is an essential component of the cultural heritage of cities
- music is a pivotal part of urban culture and the Creative Industries

Contact

If you have potential book projects in mind, please contact the series editor Alenka Barber-Kersovan (alenka.barber-kersovan@leuphana.de) or lelena Stanovnik at Intellect (ielena@intellectbooks.com).

@IntellectBooks

Please include author/editor name, title, and a brief synopsis for each volume. We are looking forward for your submission.

Editorial board Andy Bennett (Griffith University Brisbane, Australia) Giacomo Bottá (University of Helsinki) Martin Cloonan (University of Turku) Pranoo Deshraju (University of Hyderabad) Murray Forman (Northeastern University Boston) Paula Guerra (Universidade do Porto) Fabian Holt (Roskilde University) Luciana Mendonca (Universidade Federal de Pernambuco, Brazil) Rosa Reitsamer (Universität für Musik und darstellende Kunst Wien) Daniel Silver (University of Toronto) Will Straw (McGill University Montreal) Susana Zapke (Musik und Kunst, Privatuniversität der

website: www.intellectbooks.com

f @intellectBooks

Intellect Books

Stodt Wien]

SONIC SIGNATURES

https://www.intellectbooks.com/sonic-signatures

MUSIC IN LEEDS

POPULAR MUSIC IN LEEDS

Histories, Heritage, People and Places

Edited by Brett Lashua Karl Spracklen Kitty Ross Paul Thompson

https://www.intellectbooks.com/popular-music-in-leeds

Street performance has been intertwined with urban life for centuries, especially since the mid-1800s. The history of the music performed in public spaces is usually found within the regulations prohibiting it, in newspapers' op-eds on the nuisance of street musicians, and police department archives. From London to Paris, Montreal to Rio de Janeiro, the urge to govern street music highlights power relations and the contested realms of public spaces. The act of regulating, institutionalizing, zoning, and enforcing how street music should be performed ends up having a significant impact on the right to the city, especially in the context of neoliberal approaches to city branding and mega-events.

https://urbanmusicstudies.org

Thank you for your attention

